VIII. Special Levy Methodology

All of the real property in the PID shall be subject to the Annual Special Levy for the purposes, to the extent and in the manner provided in the Rate and Method, unless exempted by the provisions thereof. The Rate and Method defines several classes of Property, including Developed Platted Property, Undeveloped Platted Property, Undeveloped Property, and Exempt Property. The Rate and Method further dictates that the Annual Special Levy will only be collected first from Developed Platted Property, second from Undeveloped Platted Property, and third from Undeveloped Property. Developed Platted Property is defined as any parcel for which the Final Plat was recorded and for which a certificate of occupancy permit was issued as of the January 1 and May 31, respectively, preceding the fiscal year in which the special levy is being collected.

The Fiscal Year 2025-26 Annual Special Levy is apportioned to each parcel of Developed Platted Property in accordance with the lot type designations prescribed in Table 1 of the Rate and Method. As of May 31, 2025, the City indicates that 443 building permits have been issued for single family lots within the PID for which there are three hundred 405 certificates of occupancy². The Maximum Annual Special Levy and Annual Special Levy amounts are summarized by levy classification in Table VIII-1 below.
